

A grayscale heatmap visualization of a 2D probability distribution. The distribution is centered and roughly circular, with the highest probability (darkest gray/black) at the center, gradually fading to white at the edges. The grid is composed of 10x10 pixels.